February 27, 2015

“Momma Dee” Maner has been a community leader since she first volunteered to help with swimming lessons at our city pool years ago. After working as a local YMCA swimming instructor, she became our city’s Parks and Recreation Director. This role allowed her to combine her two lifelong passions- education and environmental conservation. Dedicated to improving public services, she designed coursework for Texas A&M University on swimming pool management, and advocated for the creation of Heritage Hall and the Jacinto City pre-school program. Her gymnastics coursework for Texas A&M brought additional rigor and standards to the judging methods for that sport.

A lot of people would say being a successful educator is enough to be proud of- but Momma Dee has always gone a step further. A committed conservationist, she has been recognized for her work to promote recycling and good stewardship- earning ABC13’s Outstanding Citizenship Award and the Governor’s Award for Environmental Excellence.

Ms. Maner, thank you so much for all that you’ve done for our community, and continue to do.

Kind regards,
